

Read Across America in Honor of Dr. Seuss

As part of our Read Across America celebration this month, we will be featuring the wonderful books of Dr. Seuss and inviting YOU to help celebrate by dressing up for the occasion!

Monday, March 13th    The Lorax    by Dr. Seuss

*Wear a mustache!

Tuesday, March 14th    Fox in Socks    by Dr. Seuss

*Wear silly socks!

Wednesday, March 15th    Horton Hears a Who    by Dr. Seuss

*Crazy Whoville Hair Day!

Thursday, March 16th    Oh, the Places You'll Go    by Dr. Seuss

*Wear a shirt from a place you have visited or design your own shirt with your favorite character.

Friday, March 17th-    Green Eggs and Ham    by Dr. Seuss

* Wear green today!

D.E.A.R. (Drop Everything And Read)

Also, on Friday, March 17th the entire school will drop everything and read in honor of Dr. Seuss. Students will read from 2:15- 2:45 pm in their respective classrooms. Students should come prepared with a book from home or they may borrow one from our library. Students must have a book before D.E.A.R. begins.

Door Decorating Contest

Starting March 7th, the students in each grade level class will plan and decorate their homeroom door with teacher supervision in honor of Dr. Seuss's birthday. Door decorating will be done at a classroom teacher designated time. Students will choose a theme that promotes reading.

Decorated doors are due Friday, March 17th by 12:00 pm. Judging will be done by staff members who are not involved in a classroom. Judging will take place just before first lunch, and the winning class will be announced as soon as the judging is completed. The class whose door is the most unique and creative will win an ice cream party during D.E.A.R.

Yes, class participation is required!!!!

