Dear Parents,

To promote safe and drug free schools, students will not carry items that can emit toxic fumes or vapors. This is from the Bloomsbury Board of Education Policy 5131.6 – Substance Abuse. The most commonly abused substances that will be prohibited are as follows:

- |                                                           |                               |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| - cements and glues                                       | - typewriter correction fluid |
| - permanent markers                                       | - dry erase markers           |
| - ditto machine fluid                                     | - paints, varnishes, stains   |
| - paint thinner                                           | - contact cement              |
| - spray paints/clear finishes                             | - printing inks               |
| - solvents, refrigerant/coolant                           | - degreasers                  |
| - lacquers, lacquer thinners                              | - brake fluid, gasoline       |
| - rubber cement                                           | - spray shortening            |
| - whipped cream (in cans)                                 | - whipped cream cartridges    |
| - any item not listed that can emit toxic fumes or vapors |                               |
